

St. James Parish Party Set Tuesday

Mrs. Joseph Sciarra, president of the St. James Council of Women, announces that the annual parish Christmas party will be held Tuesday, 8 p.m., in the parish at 414 Vincent St., Redondo Beach. All parishioners are cordially invited to attend.

Entertainment for the evening will be provided by church organizations, including the five areas of the Women's Council, the Holy Name Society, CFM, Scouts, Contraternity and Sunday School children and the newly formed St. James Children's Band.

South area director, Mrs. Alfred Brass and Mrs. William Taylor, Southwest area director, say that their groups are planning holiday refreshments for the evening.

Members of the Holy Name Society will handle the lighting and sound equipment for the event, according to president, William Deacon. Immediate past president of the group, Charles Comeaux, will be master of ceremonies.

As in the past, there will be a collection of Christmas gifts for underprivileged children. Packages should be wrapped and tagged whether for boy or girl and appropriate age.

Artists Enter Mural Contest Today at PC

Members of the El Camino and Harbor College Art Clubs will enter their designs in the Peninsula Center Mural Competition today. The display will be held at the Peninsula Center Mall Gallery.

Millard Sheets, Southland artist and critic, will act as judge in selecting the award winning murals. First, second and third place winners will receive cash awards.

Illegal passing is among the most dangerous of traffic violations, says the Automobile Club of Southern California. Never pass on hills, curves, at intersections, and whenever a solid yellow line is painted on your side of the highway center line. It is important to remember, however, that the absence of a yellow line does not automatically give you the right to pass. If there's any doubt about your ability to pass safely, stay in your own lane.
